Preface

By: Mufakkir-e-Millat Hadrat Moulānā Abdullāh Sāhib Kāpodravi (Dāmat Barakātuhū)

بسم الله الرحمن الرحيم

Al Hamdu Lillāh! Almighty Allāh has honoured the area of Gujrāt with the virtue of it being a visiting spot of many Sahābah, Tābieen and Tab-e-Tābieen. Their visits obviously opened up the doors for many Muhadditheen, Mufassirin, Fuqaha and Qurrā to settle in these lands, and through their blessed personalities the branch of knowledge of Ilm-Hadith spread in this land.

This branch gained further strength through the esteemed student of Allamah Sakhawi, Sheikh Rājih ibn Dawood Ahmedabadi, and through the esteemed student of Sheikh Ali Muttaqi, viz. Allamah Muhammad ibn Tahir Patni, who gained further expertise in the sciences of Ahadith whilst in the lands of Hijaz, and upon his return initiated the spread of this blessed branch of Islamic knowledge on a general scale.

(In al-Dou-ul-Lāmi, Hafiz Sakhawi has written the biography of Sheikh Rajih ibn Dawood Ahmedabadi.)

During the ninth and tenth century Hijri the lands of Gujrat were known as the centre of the knowledge of Ahadith. Hadrat Moulana Abdul Hayy Hasani Sahib Lakhnawi, the historian of India, has painted the picture of that blessed era, in the following words:

'I am able to state, without any fear of opposition, that the amount of attention that was given to Islamic knowledge by the rulers of Gujrat during their two-hundred year rule, the like of that is difficult to find during the six hundred year Muslim rule in Delhi.

It was on account of the attention given by the Gujrat rulers that many great scholars of Shiraz, Yemen, and other Muslim lands migrated to the lands of Gujrat for the dissemination of Islamic knowledge. Through their blessings Gujrat would later produce its own world famous scholars, whose wells of knowledge are till today quenching the thirst of the students in the Madāris of Hindustan.

To truly understand what I have written one shall need to study the writings of Sheikh Abdul Qadir Hadrami (Al-Nur- al-Safir), Sheikh Abu BakrShilli (Al-Mashra' al-Rawi), Sheikh Muhammad ibn Umar Aasifi (Al-Zafar al-Wala) and the writings of this servant titled Al-Awarif, Jannat-ul-Mashriq and Nuzhat-ul-Khawatir, which as yet unfortunately have not been published.

Through these writings one shall clearly see that where Gujrat was regarded as a Shiraz in the aspect of the logical sciences (Ulūm-e-Aqaliya), so too did it hold a mantle of being on par with Yemen in the field of the sciences relating to the knowledge of the Ahadith (Ilm-Hadith).

There is no doubt regarding the greatness of Sheikh Abdul-Haq and the valuable treasures that he compiled in the field of Ahadith, but one cannot deny the fact that even before the birth of Sheikh Abdul Haq the lands of Gujrat were already drinking profusely from the knowledge of the students of Sheikhul-Islam Zakariya Al-Ansari, Sheikh Shams-u-Din Sakhawi, and Allamah Ibn Hajr Makki. (Yad-e-Ayyam Pg 68-70)

Then came a time when, due to the continuous attacks of the Mirhats, which saw Surat looted many a time, and the complete devastation of Ahmedabad these lands witnessed a steep decline in its status of being a centre of Islamic education. Almighty Allah however soon re-initiated the winds, which saw once again the rise of the sciences relating to Ahadith in the lands of Gujrat.

A difference of opinion amongst our elders of Dār-ul-Ulum Deoband became a blessing in disguise for the land of Gujrat, since it brought in its aftermath the master of his era, Allamah Anwar Shah Sahib Kashmiri, the author of Fathul-Mulhim, Allamah Shabbier Ahmed Uthmani, Hadrat Moulana Abdur-Rahman Sahib Amrohi, Moulana Siraj Ahmed Sahib Rashidi, Moulana Saeed Ahmed Sahib Akbar-Aabadi, and Moulana Hifzur-Rahmān Sahib Suihaarwi, amongst others, who set up camp at Dahbel, and turned Autumn back into Spring for the lands of Gujrat.

After 1947, Sheikhul Islam Hadrat Moulana Husein Ahmed Sahib Madani's yearly journeys to Gujrat began, which to a great extent created within the masses a new yearning for Islamic knowledge. During these trips thousands would pledge allegiance to Hadrat. I too had the fortune of participating in some of these blessed gatherings. Through Hadrat's attention and duas a religious environment was once again created in these areas. The word of Dawah and Tabhligh added strength to this, and slowly but surely the minds of people began changing, madrasahs began spreading and the sciences of Islamic knowledge, especially the knowledge of Ahadith witnessed a new era of progress.

The thought thus arose to compile a gist of the efforts made by the scholars of this land during the last century in the field of Ahadith, so that the revival of the sciences of Ahadith in the lands of Gujrat could become a part of recorded history, which shall In-sha Allah never be forgotten.

Great help in this regard was received from Moulana Abdul-Ahad Sahib and Moulana Muhsin Randeri Sahib who worked tirelessly in gathering the information required and placing it in sequence. My close friend, Moulana Ismail Kauthar then edited it and it is now ready for publication.

This is its first edition, thus a request is made to the readers to please notify us of names of scholars of Gujrat who had excelled in the field of Ilm-Hadith, but have not been mentioned in this book.

Effort was made to a great extent to gather finer details regarding the scholars whose biographies have been written, but unfortunately in many places the required help was not forthcoming. We do hope for the future that Almighty Allah create the means for this to be rectified.

And Allah alone is the one who guides and the one who aids!

Was-Salāmu Alaikum wa Rahmatullah wa Barakatuhu

A lowly servant, (Moulana) Abdullah Kapordravi (May Almighty Allah forgive him)

21 Jumadal-Ukhra 1439 (9 March 2018) - Friday

Introduction

From centuries ago the area of Gujrat was blessed with a unique religious and historical position.

Its contribution to the sciences of Quran and Sunnah can never be forgotten. It is the system of Almighty Allah that after a Divine Decree passes, arrangements are then made to ease the path for that particular decree. So too has it been with the lands of Gujrat. Thus, from the earliest days of Islamic history, this land found itself being blessed with the footsteps of Sahabah Radiyallahu Anhum.

Three years after the sad demise of Rasulullah Sallalahu Alaihi wa Sallam, during the caliphate of Hadrat Umar Radiyallah Anhum, Hadrat Hakam ibn Abi al-Aas, acting upon the command of his brother, Uthman, led a force of Sahabah and Tabieen towards the direction of Hind. Crossing the route with ships they traversed difficult waters and finally laid anchor on the shores of Gujrat. It was from that time already that the lands of Gujrat began satiating itself from the sweet waters of Islamic knowledge.

Then in the second century Hijri, the lands of Gujrat were blessed with the exalted personality of Hadrat Rabi ibn Sabah Sa'di Basri, regarding whom the scholars of Ilm-ul-Rijal (a science concerning the biographies of the narrators of Ahadith), like Ali ibn Madini, Abu Hātim Rāzi, Abu Zur'aa Razi and Imam Ahmed ibn Hanbal, etc offered high words of praise, and described him with the titles of Sadūq, Thiqah, (reliable) etc. It was this very personality who has been described with the titles of 'the first who compiled in Islam', or 'the first who compiled from Basrah', or the first who gathered the information'.

According to what Ibn Athir and Ibn Khaldun have mentioned, it was in the lands of Baruch that Hadrat Rabi ibn Sabih passed away and it is there that he is buried.

The Sahabah, Tabieen and Tab-e-Tabieen were walking vessels brimming with the teachings of the Quran and the Sunnah. Their every practice was in accordance to the Quran and the Sunnah, and their every talk was regarding it. Thus, whichever land would be blessed by their coming would at the very same time get blessed with the teachings of the Quran and the Sunnah.

Throughout the centuries these illustrious personalities graced the lands of Gujrat with their presence and kept the flame of the sciences of the Quran and the Sunnah burning brightly. However a formal method of education was not established with regards to the intricate sciences of Ilm-Hadith.

Very little attention was paid to the prime works of Ahadith, such as Sahih Bukhari, Sahib Muslim, Sunan Abu Dawood, Suna Tirmidhi, etc. The pinnacle of one's knowledge in Ahadith would generally reach books such as Mashariq-ul-Anwar of Saghāni, Masābih-u-Sunnah of Baghawi and Mishkaat-ul-Masābih of Tabrezi.

This remained the norm in the lands of Hind until about the 9th century Hijri. Then, by the sheer grace of Almighty Allah, the attention of leading scholars of Ahadith turned towards the sub-continent of Hind, and many chose Ahmedabad as their centre for the purpose of spreading this most valuable treasure.

In the tenth century the following scholars took up residence in the lands of Gujrat:

From the students of Sheikhul-Islam Zakariya Al-Ansari:

- Sheikh Abdul-Mu'ti ibn Hasan ibn Abdullah Ba'Kathir (d. 989 A.H.), who was a Muhadith as well as a linguistic par excellence
- Sheikh Ahmed ibn Badruddin Misri (d. 992 A.H.)

From the students of Sheikh Ibn Hajar Haithami:

- Sheikh Muhammad ibn Ahmed ibn Ali Fakhihi Hanbali (d. 992 A.H.)

From the students of Allamah Shamsuddin Sakhawi:

- His prized student, Sheikh Muhammad ibn Muhammad ibn Abdur-Rahman Maliki (d. 919 A.H.), who was regarded as the king of the scholars of Ahadith in his era
- Sheikh Rajih ibn Dawood (passed away 904)
- Sheikh Qasim ibn Dawood

From the students of Sheikh Abu Bakr Eidrus

- Shihabuddin Ahmed ibn Ali Halbi Makki (d 951 A.H.)

From the students of Sheikh Ali Muttaqi Burhanpūri

- Sheikh Abdullah ibn Sa'dullah Sindhi (d. 950 A.H.)
- Muhammad ibn Tahir Patni (d. 986 A.H.)

It was these illustrious scholars and masters of Ahadith that satiated the thirst of the masses of Gujrat, and through their sincere efforts an Autumn soon changed into Spring, and a barren land of these sciences soon became a garden. Until today, not only in Gujrat, but practically throughout Hindustan students continue deriving benefit from the treasures left behind by these giants of Islam.

It was this that Sayyid Abdul-Hay Hasani Lakhnawi was indicating towards when he wrote:

Some have claimed that the first to spread the sciences of Ahadith in the lands was Sheikh Abdul Haq Muhadith Dehlewi. If this statement is taken with regards to Delhi alone then to a great extent it will be correct. However if it is regarding the entire Hindustan and Gujrat is to be considered as a state of Hind, then it will have to be declared as incorrect. There is no doubt regarding the greatness of Sheikh Abdul-Haq and the valuable treasures that he compiled in the field of Ahadith, but one cannot deny the fact that even before the birth of Sheikh Abdul Haq the lands of Gujrat were already drinking profusely from the knowledge of the students of Sheikhul-Islam Zakariya Al-Ansari, Sheikh Shamsuddin Sakhawi, and Allamah Ibn Hajr Makki.

From the above it has become clear that for centuries the lands of Gujrat enjoyed being a centre of the sciences of Ilm-Hadith. Unfortunately a time did come, when due to continuous enemy attacks, these centers were raised to the ground and the sciences suffered tremendously. However, by the grace of Almighty Allah, about 150 years ago, the winds of this blessed knowledge began blowing again, and it is progressing at a tremendous pace. When Hind was divided there were only four Durul-Ulums in the entire Gujrat which catered for education until the final year (Daura-e-Hadith), and today already we have over sixty.

The book in front of you is a compilation of short biographies of the teachers of Ahadith at forty of these institutes.

Background of the book

It was in the month of Ramadhan 1437 A.H., whilst I (Abdul-Ahad Falahi) was at the Station Masjid of Kosamba that I received a call from Hadrat Moulana Ismail Sahib, the son of Mufakkir-e-Millat, Hadrat Moulana Abdullah Sahib Kapodravi (May his blessings spread far and wide). After a few words, he handed the phone over to his honourable father, who expressed the desire to meet with me, explaining that a thought had come in Hadrat's mind and he would now like to delegate some work over to me.

The next morning I presented myself in Hadrat's company, in Kapodra. Hadrat explained that a thought had been circling in his mind for a few days to have something prepared regarding the services rendered by the present and near-past Ulema of Gujrat in the field of Ahadith, which could one day serve as a light for others and which could shed light on the manner in which these Ulema worked in the spread of this blessed science.

After receiving my full happiness to participate in this blessed task, Hadrat instructed that I take aid from my brother, Moulana Muhsin. We were directed to prepare letters and to have it sent to the famous institutes of learning, requesting from them information regarding the Asatizah of Ahadith who had served in the recent past. Hadrat himself jotted down a sample of what the letter should be, and accordingly one was prepared. After slight editing at Hadrat's blessed hands, the letter was sent out shortly after Ramadhan, some delivered by hand and some by post.

The waiting period was perhaps the hardest, and the thoughts would trouble whether an answer from the institutes would ever arrive. Hadrat's affectionate manner of encouragement however gave strength, and through Hadrat's continuous efforts replies were finally received from forty institutes.

May Almighty Allah reward Hadrat tremendously for his continued support and guidance and may Almighty Allah bless Hadrat with long life, coupled with good health.

Lay-out of the book

- After receiving replies from the various institutes, without any additions or subtractions, the information has merely been placed in sequence. Unfortunately, from some institutes no reply was received, but we do have hope that in the next addition, what has been left out as yet, shall be included.

- The sequence of this book follows that of the books regarding Rijāl (the biographies of the narrators of Ahadith), i.e. in accordance to the Arabic letters the names have been placed, beginning with those whose names begin with Alif, and so on. This shall In-sha-Allah make searching for a particular biography easier.

- Although the book was originally intended to list only the Ulema of Gujrat, it was later felt appropriate to also include those Ulema who were not themselves from Gujrat, but had settled here and provided unique service in this field.

- From this book it shall In-sha-Allah become apparent that just as how Gujrat is regarded as a leading figure in trade and farming, so too is it in the sciences of Ahadith. And all praise belongs solely to Almighty Allah.

- This is a mere effort from a student of Islamic education. Thus, whehever one perceives some error or feels the need for some addition, please feel free to inform me, so that the rectification may be made in the next edition.

A sincere appeal

There are still many biographies of great personalities of Gujrat in the field of Ahadith that are outstanding. We thus appeal to the institutes in which these Ulema taught to please provide us with the information required, whereby the biographies of these illustrious scholars may also be acquired. Also, certain Madrasahs did reply, but did not provide the information required, especially regarding the Asatizah from whom these scholars studied. This information is vital, as it serves as a great aid in establishing the Asānid of the scholars. We beg from the institutions to spare us some time and to have this valuable information collected for us. May Almighty Allah reward all.

A note of Appreciation

We are indebted to all the Madrasahs that took out time to provide us the information required for the preparation of this book. May Almighty Allah bless all these institutions with great progress and rewards their teachers and administration greatly in both the worlds. Aamin.

We are also indebted to our honourable friend, Mufti Ismail ibn Yusuf Falahi Kausari Falahi, who edited this compilation, upon the instruction of Hadrat Moulana Abdullah Sahib Kapodravi. May Almighty Allah bless him in his piety, his knowledge, and grant him abundance in this world as well as in the next

Finally, we again express our gratitude to Hadrat Mufakkir-e-Millat, Moulana Abdullah Sahib Kapodravi, who allowed us the opportunity to enjoy a share in this great work. May Almighty Allah bless Hadrat with good health and long life. May Almighty Allah spread the blessings of Hadrat's knowledge to the far corners of the world and may Almighty Allah, in His Kindness, accept this weak effort. Aamin!

I have studied Anwār-ul-Mahmūd at selected spots and have found it to be free of errors in text as well as in meaning. I gave me gave pleasure to see that you had understood my lectures correctly and had worded it correctly, and have quoted the texts of the commentaters directly from their commentaries. May Almighty Allah reward you abundantly in both the worlds, and may He grant you blessings in your time and in your ambitions.
